MR. J.P. MONTGOMERY MR. F.L. WILLIAMSON-CHAIRMAN MR. W.K. HOLT

BOARD OF EDUCATION

MR. C.M. HORNER DR. J.P. SPOON MRS. W.H. CARROLL MR. R.W. BARNWELL

Burlington Board of Education

Fortunate is the school system which is backed up and directed by a Board of Education made up of high minded men and women whose hearts and souls are wrapped up in the welfare of the boys and girls. It may truly be said that the Burlington schools have such a board. We are enthusiastic about our Board of Education.

FINLEY L. WILLIAMSON, Chairman

Mr. Williamson was elected a member of the board in April 1921, and was immediately chosen as chairman. He is a business man of parts, and with his approval and assistance the bookkeeping and the business methods of our schools were entirely reorganized. The budget system has been adopted and the schools live strictly within their income.

Mr. Williamson's business experience and executive ability have proved to be of inestimable value to the board. Among his many friends and acquaintances he is regarded as the soul of courtesy, and is known over the state as one of its most public-spirited citizens. His kindly consideration of the legitimate interests of teachers and pupils has endeared him to all.

J. P. MONTGOMERY, Treasurer

Mr. Montgomery occupies a very important position on the board as Treasurer, and is also chairman of the Finance Committee. In these positions he serves with great efficiency and steadfast loyalty the best interests of the schools. He loves the boys and girls and nothing does him more good than to see them cared for in the right way.

He gives much of his time, thought, and energy in devotion to his duties as a member of the board. It should be borne in mind by the public that the members of the Board of Education receive no salary or remuneration of any kind for services rendered.

W. K. HOLT

As chairman of the Committee on New Buildings Mr. Holt has displayed his well known ability in getting things done. His sound business judgment and wide experience have made it possible for him to render the schools great assistance during their period of expansion. Mr. Holt is probably on more committees, boards of directors, etc., than any other man in Burlington. In spite of this he is always prompt at meetings and never pleads lack of time for rendering service.

MRS. W. H. CARROLL

As the only woman of the board Mrs. Carroll has ever been mindful of the spiritual values in the great work of the public schools, and her services have demonstrated the wisdom of placing women in such positions. With her idealism and interest in humanitarian principles is combined practical common sense. Hence, she has been a most valuable member, and her place will be hard to fill. We sincerely regret to learn, that on account of her many other duties she has found it necessary to resign. For several years she served efficiently as chairman of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds, and was also a member of the Committee on New Buildings.

DR. J. P. SPOON

Although a very busy man Dr. Spoon finds time to serve as a member of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds. Inspection of the physical properties will convince anyone that this work has been well done.

Honesty, sincerity, and devotion to the highest ideals of business ethics are among his outstanding qualities. He has done much for our schools that really counts.

C. M. HORNER

In reaching a decision or in formulating a policy Mr. Horner's motto always is this: "If it is the best thing for the pupils—if they really need it, then see that they get it." He has an unselfish interest in the children of Burlington and is for them first, last, and all the time. Mr. Horner is an optimist and believes that money wisely spent in developing the schools is one of the best possible investments. He is a member of the Committee on New Buildings.

R. W. BARNWELL

As chairman of the Fuel Committee Mr. Barnwell looks ahead and keeps us all warm during the cold winter months. He is a man of decision and action. His alert business sense and his broad-minded viewpoint make him a valuable type of man to have on a school board.

Your School

*If you think your school's the best
Tell 'em so,
If you'd have it lead the rest,
Help it grow,
When there's anything to do,
You'll feel great, when it's through,
Don't you know.*

*If you're used to giving knocks,
Change your style,
Instead of rocks throw bouquets
For awhile,
Let the other fellow roast;
Shun him as you would a ghost;
Meet his line of chatter with a boast
And smile.*

*When the stranger from afar
Comes along
Tell 'em about our school, who and what we are
Make it strong,
Never flatter, never bluff,
Tell 'em the truth, that's enough,
Join and help the boosters—
They're the stuff.*

SULLY HARRIS OLDHAM

"SALLY"

"A good name in man is the immediate jewel of his soul."

Glee Club '22, '23, '24, '25; President Hi-Y Club '24; President Latin Club '25; Secretary Athenian Literary Society '24; Inter-Society Debater '24, '25; President Athenian Literary Society '25; President of Class '25.

Sully performs his duties in school with such forceful honesty that he always gravitates to the head of any student enterprise in which he takes part and his popularity and ability have led to his election as president of the Senior Class.

DANIEL WILLIES LOY

"PUP"

"This fellow is wise enough to play the fool and do that well."

Vice-President Class '24, '25; President Excelsior Literary Society '25; Captain Basketball '24; Varsity Basketball '23, '24, '25; Varsity Football '23, '24, '25; Captain Football '24; Boys' Glee Club '24, '25; School Marshal '24; Varsity Baseball '24, '25.

Dan has won the highest standing in the three major sports, and his manner in doing this has won him a strong position in the hearts of all the students of the school.

LYLA PEARL BROWN

"LY BROWN"

"A smile for all she meets, a charm to make each memory sweet."

Secretary and Treasurer Philomean Literary Society '22; Vice-President Philomean Literary Society '23; President Alvin Literary Society '24; Class Treasurer '23, '24; Class Secretary '24, '25; School Marshal '24; Secretary and Treasurer Athletic Association '25; President Tennis Club '25; Literary Editor of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '25.

Polite, wholesome, charmingly beautiful in spirit and body, with an unlimited number of friends, Lyla leaves a gap in school circles that will not soon be filled.

ROY FACUETTE WHITLEY

"POSSIE"

"Far may we search before we find a heart so manly or so kind."

Secretary Athenian Literary Society '22; Boys' Glee Club '22, '23; State Triangular Debater '23; Treasurer Hi-Y Club '23, '24; President Class '23, '24; President Athenian Literary Society '23; Treasurer Euphonian Literary Society '24; Treasurer of Class '25; President Hi-Y Club '25; President Euphonian Literary Society '25.

Ambitious and unselfish, modest and unassuming; Roy by his high ideals and right principles has won for himself an abiding place in the hearts of his classmates. No one who knows him can doubt his earnestness of purpose or his ability to realize his ambitions.

JUANITA AMICK

"NITA"

"She holds the cel of knowledge by the tail."

Philomean Literary Society '23, '24; President Phalo Literary Society '25; Vice-President Olympian Latin Club '25.

Juanita is one of those rare combinations of musicians, athlete, and scholar, who is successful in whatever capacity she serves. She can be quiet if it be necessary, but she is ready for fun when the occasion permits, and has won many friends.

AGNES LUCILLE ANGEL

"ANGEL CHILD"

"The quiet mind is richer than a crown."

Philomean Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Hesperian Literary Society '24, '25; Glee Club '24, '25.

Lucille's name suits her well, for she is an angel in her class. We do not know what we could have done without her for she has been a great asset to her class. Her ambitions are ones which we are sure she will obtain. Her gentle disposition has won for her scores of friends.

DORRIS APPLE

"TOOTS"

*"I'm not bound to win,
But I'm bound to be true."*

Philomean Literary Society '24, '23, '25.

Dorris is frank, industrious and ambitious. She does not talk much but when she speaks she says something worth while. She knows how to make friends and better than that she knows how to keep them. Wherever fortune may lead her, we predict a path of sunshine and good cheer.

THAMES C. APPLE

"TIM"

*"I'll be merry, I'll be free
I'll be sad for nobody."*

Philomean Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Alvin Literary Society '25; Press Reporter Alvin Literary Society '25; Girls' Glee Club '23, '24, '25; Track '25; Hiking '25.

Song-bird and "Heart Smasher"—that is Thames. In the High School Glee Club she is indispensable; as a mischief maker she is a wonder. Her victories in this field are only surpassed by the number of "Shicks" she has tamed. In all things she has shown the ability to accomplish. We would hesitate to predict the future for such a talented young girl, but we feel safe in saying that she will fit into any situation, whatever it may be.

RUTH LEE BOLAND

"RUNT"

"She is herself of best things a collection."

Philomean Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Hesperian Literary Society '24, '25; Track '25; Class Poet '25.

No one can be angry with Ruth, for when she looks at you, a world of mischief glowing in her great blue eyes, all reproof is forgotten. By this magic and her charming personality, she has numbered her friends with the stars. Without her great dramatic ability her society would be handicapped, and without her inspiring poetry the class of '25 would be incomplete.

LUCY IONE BOONE

"PEGGY"

*"'Tis the songs you sing and the smiles you wear,
That makes the sunshine everywhere."*

Class Basketball '22, '23; Glee Club '22, '23, '24, '25; Class Secretary '24; President Phalo Literary Society '25; Class Testator '25.

Lucy's voice is like the song of the night-gale; her music like "Lydian Airs." Bubbling over with energy and enthusiasm, combining work and play, finding joy in life always, she is a loyal friend, classmate, and pal. Our class would have been indeed incomplete without our dear "Peggy."

LESLIE ALONZA BROWN

"TED"

"It were better to be eaten to death with a rust than to be scoured to nothing with perpetual motion."

Athenian Literary Society '21, '22; Euphonian Literary Society '24, '25; Boys' Glee Club '23, '24. Here is a classmate we can never forget. "Ted" is a happy-go-lucky fellow, and his pet abomination is study. He is a truly good fellow and is always ready to help any one if he can be of service. "Ted" has a host of friends and, with his cheery disposition, will surely gain more in the future. Success to you, old scout!

MARY LOUISE BROWN

"MARIE"

"She's true to her word, her work, and her friends."

Philomian Literary Society '21; Phalo Literary Society '24, '25; Class Basketball '24; Varsity Basketball '24, '25.

"Laugh and grin, sing and shout, but never, never pout," so says our "Marie." She's always happy and has a smile for everyone. Mary Louise was an important member of the basketball team. She played guard and did it as splendidly as she does everything else. Burlington High School will miss a good student and a good athlete when "Marie" leaves, but there is no need for worrying about her success in life.

WALTER MONROE BROWN, JR.

"WALT"

"Truth from his lips prevails with double sways."

Athenian Literary Society '22, '23; Excelsior Society '24, '25; Class Baseball '22; Class Volley-Ball '25; Tennis Club '24, '25; Varsity Track '24, '25; Glee Club '22, '23, '24, '25.

"Walt" is a young man who is friendly to everyone, and who makes friends easily. He is kind, amiable and self-respecting. He is also courteous to those that are older than he. Walter can adapt himself to any environment with ease. He is slow to anger and will treat any one squarely.

JAMES MARSHALL BROWNING

"BUNKS"

"Calm whatsoever storms may shake the world."

Varsity Football '23, '24; Boys' Glee Club '22, '23, '24, '25; Athenian Literary Society '21, '22, '23, '24; Euphonian Literary Society '24, '25; Hi-Y Club '24, '25; Class Basketball '21, '22, '23, '24; High School Orchestra '25; High School Band '25.

"Bunks" seems quiet at first, but upon closer acquaintance we find him to be very active and lively. He is a true sport, and is always ready to do his part whether it be in a football game or in measuring the school auditorium. His good nature and friendly disposition have won many friends, and we are sure that the future holds success in store for him.

MORDEN BUCK

"PASTOR"

"The secret of trying is to say everything that can be said on the subject."

Athenian Literary Society '25; Boys' Glee Club '25; Tennis '25.

Morden did not become one of us until our last year, but during this short time he has become a loyal member of the class of '25. He has been very active in school life and also ranks high in his class. His personality is one that all of us would like to have, and he makes friends quickly. We are sure that "Pastor" will hold on to good fortune in later life as well as he held the ball on the senior nine.

RUTH LEE BURKE

"BILLY"

"Ambition rules her brain, and love her heart."

Philomena Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25.
There is not a more whole-hearted girl in the world. There is nothing Ruth would not do for a friend. She is called a reflector of sunshine, and is happiest when making others happy. Her future promises to be one of the brightest, and our best wishes go with her.

ELIZABETH ADLINE CATES

"PETE"

"With gentle yet prevailing force, Intent upon her destined course."

Glee Club '25; Hesperian Literary Society '25; Girls' Athletic Association '25.
To see Elizabeth going home, heavy laden with books, one might think that her head was filled only with studious thoughts, but that would be quite a mistake, for she is full of fun and if she is ever unhappy she conceals it. She has been a loyal participant in our many joys during her four years with us. On account of her wit and pleasant disposition she has gained many friends. We are confident that in whatever field of activity she chooses her life work, she will make good.

HARRIETTE ELIZABETH CATES

"HENRIETTA"

*"A heart without fear,
A face full of cheer,"*

Phalo Literary Society '22, '23; Alvin Literary Society '24, '25; Girls' Glee Club '23, '24, '25.
Harriette seems demure at a distance, but on close acquaintance we note that the gods have bestowed on her that rare gift, a sense of humor. She has a sunny disposition, and by her willingness to do kind deeds she makes the truest of friends. Attractive, friendly, and conscientious, she works at all her task willingly and cheerfully.

MARY ELIZABETH CHEEK

"ZIB"

*"For if she will, she will, and you may depend on it,
And if she won't, she won't, and there's an end on it."*

Girls' Glee Club '23, '24, '25; Phalo Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Alvin Literary Society '25; High School Orchestra '25; Press Reporter of Alvin Literary Society '25; Girls' Athletic Association '25; Prophetess of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '25.
That "Zib" likes a good time, is a known fact, but when the time comes to lay aside frolics there are few who can beat her at good hard work. In music particularly she stars; she is an expert pianist and drummer, she can even extract tunes from a harmonica. Her charming personality is one of her greatest gifts. May her friends always find her as dependable as the class of '25 has found her.

GEORGE WILLARD CLAPP

"CURLY"

"Far may we search before we find a heart so manly, or so kind."

Track '23, '24, '25; Class Baseball '22, '23.
Willard is one of our favorite boys. He has a smile for everyone, and, though quiet, is always ready to enter into any kind of fun. His pleasant disposition, and perhaps his curly hair have won for him many friends, especially of the opposite sex.

EDMUND LANE CURLEE

"ED"

"They say there are more able men, but I will have to get my glasses."

President of Hi-Y Club '23; Assistant Editor-in-Chief of "Doe Wah-Jack" '24; President Tennis Association '24; Editor-in-Chief of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '25; Boys' Glee Club '23, '24, '25; Athenian Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25; Vice President Athenian Literary Society '25; Varsity Basketball '23, '24, '25; Varsity Tennis '23, '24, '25; Class Baseball '22, '23, '24, '25.

Now here's a shining star of '25. "Ed" has struggled for the past four years, and has won a constellation of stars in the field of Athletics, and high honors in the class room.

BETSY ELIZABETH DARK

"BET"

"Rare compound of quality, noble and true
With plenty of sense and good humor too."

Varsity Basketball '22, '23, '24, '25; Manager of Basketball '24, '25; Phalo Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Hesperian Literary Society '24, '25; President Hesperian Literary Society '24; Press Reporter Hesperian Literary Society '25; President Girls' Athletic Association '24, '25; Assistant Athletic Editor of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '23, '24; Athletic Editor of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '24, '25; Girls' Glee Club '25.

"Bet" is the kind of girl everyone delights to meet. Athletics? It is her heart's desire to enter a game and win. She is bubbling over with energy and enthusiasm, combining work and play, and finding joy in life always.

RUTH DAVIS

"RUFUS"

"Wise to resolve, and patient to perform."

Girls' Glee Club '25; Phalo Literary Society '23, '25; Philomean Literary Society '24.

Ruth can always be depended on as she is an infallible sign board. If at any time she is seen cornering a member of History class Number one, the Seniors can look out for a History test. On account of this dependability, we expect great things of Ruth in the future.

FRANK DeMOSS

"MUZZIE"

"A man who never whines
Or talks of 'fate or luck'
But ever soaks and fights
And smiles and wins—through pluck."

Athenian Literary Society '22, '23; Excelsior Literary Society '24, '25; Treasurer Excelsior Literary Society '24; Baseball '23, '24; Football '23, '24, '25; Latin Club '24, '25; Hi-Y Club '23, '24; Manager Football '24, '25.

"A Gloom Banisher and a Smile Spreader, that's "Muzzie."

VIOLA NIX DURANT

"RED"

"Her hair is not more sunny than her smile."

Philomean Literary Society '21, '22, '23, '24, '25; Girls' Glee Club '21, '22; Girls' Athletic Association '25; Tennis '23, '25.

Viola's "crowning glory of red" is not a meaningless mass, for, as one would suppose, she is all alive, and has thoroughly proved this by being one of our most successful and popular High School workers.

ELIZA MAE DURHAM

"PEE WEE"

*"She's aye, aye sae blithe, sae gay,
She's aye, sae blithe and cheerie."*

Secretary and Treasurer Philomenean Literary Society '22; Class Cheer-Leader '23, '24; Girls' Glee Club '24, '25; School Cheer-leader '24, '25.

Laughter and sunshine always follow in Liza Mae's path. Wherever she has trod, cheery words and kind deeds, inspired by her natural sweetness, have fallen. A hint of mischief twinkling in her eyes tells us that she's ever ready for a bit of harmless fun. Like Washington, "Liza" "needs not to be eulogized!"

DELOS MONTGOMERY ELDER, JR.

"DEAL"

"A cheerful countenance turneth away gloom."

Euphonian Literary Society '24; Athenian Literary Society '25.

Everybody likes "Deal", for he is always in a good humor. He never gets angry with anyone and is always honest and truthful. Surely he will be able to attain success in the mechanical world, because, rain or shine, heat or cold, he has somehow managed to get his "thrashing machine" to school on time.

WILLIAM ELLIS

"BILL"

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

Varsity Football '24; Boys' Glee Club '23, '24, '25; School Marshall '24; Athenian Literary Society '23, '24, '25.

Take "Bill's" pep away and you will have no "Bill". His enthusiasm fairly bubbles over, whether on sidelines or as an active participant in any event. "Bill's" loyalty to his friends, his class, and his school is true as steel. Here's to you, "Bill,"—a good sport.

PAUL FOUST FOGLEMAN

"PEANUT"

*"Let me make men know
More values in me than my habits show."*

Euphonian Literary Society '25; Track '25; Captain of Volley-ball '25.

"Peanut" has a unique character that one can not quite classify. He is our champion on the track where his ability is unsurpassed. He is always ready to do his part. Because of his "genius" with flappers, he is known to his intimate friends as "Shiek."

VALLIE VIRGINIA GRIFFITH

"BOBBIE"

"She smiles and smiles and will not sigh."

Phalo Literary Society '23, '24; Philomenean Literary Society '24, '25; Manager of Volley-ball Squad '25; Varsity Basketball '25.

Aside from possession a peculiar brogue all her own and being endowed with an unlimited supply of knowledge and "pep," "Bobby" is hard to beat. She always says, when trouble is around, "Begone dull care, I pray thee." She is quite our star in attendance for she has been neither absent or tardy since she started to school. She is interested in athletics; she shines in volley-ball, basketball, track and baseball. Would the class of '25 have been complete without her? No!

ALLAN MEBANE HALL

"CHIN"

"A happy disposition, like dollars, will often-times pay your way."

Euphonia Literary Society '22, '23, '25; Varsity Football '24; Class Baseball '25; Hi-Y Club '24. Here is Allan, the same graceful lad who strolled upon the B. H. S. campus in 1921 to make his debut with the class of '25. Well has he played his part. With the speech of Demostrenes, the head of Socrates, and the handclasp of a politician, he has gradually reached the pinnacle of success.

HOWARD GRAVES HOLT

"GRAVY"

"Roll on, old world, and I'll roll with you."

Vice-President of Class '23; President of Class '23; Cheerleader '23, '25; Secretary Athenian Literary Society '23; President Athenian Literary Society '25; Varsity Football '22, '23, '24; Captain Football '23; Class Baseball '22, '23, '24, '25; Class Basketball '22, '23, '24; Manager Basketball '25; Manager Baseball '25; Athletic Editor of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '24; Business Manager of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '25; Chief School Marshal '24; Glee Club '23, '24, '25; Class Historian '24; Athenian Literary Society '22, '23, '25; Varsity Basketball Squad '24.

Graves is a great sport and is "ace high" with everybody and in everything.

WILMER CAROLINE HOLT

"BILL"

"Her air, her manner, all who see admire."

Girls' Glee Club '23, '24, '25; Philomea Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Alvin Literary Society '24, '25. Why, but Wilmer possesses a disposition so friendly, so friend loving, and so whole heartedly genuine? She radiates such a wealth of sunshine and personality that few can resist her magnetism. Indeed, she is a striking proof of the ancient adage: "If you would have friends, just show yourself friendly."

GEORGE HUNTER

"FLIP"

"In every deed he has a heart to resolve, A head to understand, and a hand to execute."

Varsity Football '24; Varsity Basketball '25; Varsity Tennis '22, '23, '24, '25; Athenian Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25; Athenian Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25.

We have all types of people in our class of '25. There are a few wise ones, some serious ones, others carefree and happy-go-lucky. George undoubtedly belongs to the latter class. He is as good at playing his favorite game, tennis, as he is at "slinging the hash tray."

WILLIAM WALTER INGLE

"WILLIE"

"Things are going to happen—why worry? Everything comes to him who waits—why hurry?"

Varsity Football '22, '24; Varsity Baseball '25; Class Baseball '22, '23, '24, '25; Excelsior Literary Society '25.

Permit us—Mr. "Reuben" Ingle, dispenser of good cheer, friend of man (and woman?)! We have found in him the making of a real citizen. Fun is his middle name. He is a hard fighter, never giving up. "Reuben" should make a successful heating engineer as he has had a great deal of experience with "hot air".

JOHN RICH IRELAND

"JOHN RICH"

"They are never alone that are accompanied by noble thoughts."

Athenian Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25.
John Rich is of a modest and retiring manner. Quiet and dignified, he never goes out of the way to make friends, but if you make a friend of him, he always proves himself worthy. His sincere and gentle disposition has made for him a score of friends who will long remember him as a valued school "chum."

JULIA VIRGINIA IRELAND

"JUDY"

"As welcome as sunshine in every place."

Phaio Literary Society '22; Philomean Literary Society '23, '24, '25; Vice-President Philomean Literary Society '24; Press-reporter Philomean Literary Society '25; School Marshall '24; Glee Club '24, '25.
"Judy" is a treasured member of the Senior class. School would not be as it is if she were not one of us. With her happy, carefree ways we are sure she will be a great success in life.

ANDREW GRACE JOHNSTON

"DOODE"

"A feminine Falstaff minus the faults."

Philomean Literary Society '21, '22, '23; Alvin Literary Society '24, '25; Athletic Association '25.
Andrew Grace is a fan. She can always be heard on the side lines when Burlington is in the game. She likes yelling next best to laughing. No matter how dignified or how serious the occasion, Grace is bound to laugh before it's over. She is a regular chatter box. If you want a doctor for the blues, hunt her up.

HENRY JOHNSTON

"SLIM"

*"Sometimes I set and think
And sometimes I jest set."*

Excelsior Literary Society '24, '25; Class Basketball '24.
Every inch of Henry, and that covers quite a bit of territory, spells success. Even though tall, he stoops faithfully to such small tasks as working geometry and physic problems, and always comes out the winner. May he always be just as successful.

WILLIAM IVER JOHNSON

"BICYCLE"

"None but himself can be his parallel."

Athenian Literary Society '23, '24; Excelsior Literary Society '25; Boys' Glee Club '23, '24, '25.
Iver has a distinct personality. He is popular throughout high school, because of his rare personal qualities and his cheerful attitude toward everyone. His music has many times moved the heart of the Senior class. He will amount to something in life, because of his constant work and his incessant striving toward high ideals.

DACE W. JONES

"RED"

"The world would be mine if I just had time to take care of it."

Varsity Basketball '23, '24; Varsity Football '24, '25; Varsity Track '24; Varsity Tennis '24, '25; Manager Tennis '25; Vice-President Athenian Literary Society '24, President Class of '24, '21-'22; Captain Varsity Basketball '25.

Dace is one of the easy going members of our class. His geniality has made him most popular. Dace, however, is a very consistent worker, and is bound to succeed. He is always ready to co-operate with anyone and has done much to make our class a success.

SARAH LAWS KAIL

"SARY"

"Gentleness, cheerfulness, and urbanity are the three graces of woman."

Philomean Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Hesperian Literary Society '24, '25; Athletic Association '25.

Sarah's kind heart and sweet disposition are ever dominant. During her four years in high school she has made many friends, who will never forget her. But all seriousness and no fun make this world a dull place. What would we have done without "Sary's" wit?

HILDAH ELIZABETH KECK

"KILDAH HECK"

*"Her smiles show her happiness,
Her friends, her popularity."*

Phalo Literary Society '22, '23, '24; President Alvin Literary Society '25; Athletic Association '25.

Hildah is diligent, faithful, jolly, and always has a winsome smile for everyone. She has been a great asset to our class and we feel that we could not have got along without her. We sincerely hope that the future will bring many good things to her for she surely deserves them.

EVELYN FERN LASLEY

"LITTLE FERN"

"One who attempted and never stood in doubt, Nothing so hard but what she found it out."

Vice-President of Glee Club '23, '24; President of Class '22; Vice-President of Class '23; Secretary and Treasurer of Phalo Literary Society '23; Vice-President of Phalo Literary Society '24; Press Reporter of Phalo Literary Society '25; School Marshal '24; Press Agent Girls' Athletic Association '25; Feature Editor of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '25; Athletic Association '25; Tennis '24, '25.

If "Little Fern" doesn't know it, there is serious doubt as to whether it's worth knowing. We call her "98", and no wonder! Yet in spite of her knowledge, Fern likes to have a good time, and is the best kind of a pal.

HENRY GREEN LOVE

"BUD"

*"For pluck and worth
O'er all the earth
I'll win the prize at last."*

Euphonian Literary Society '22, '23; Athenian Literary Society '24, '25; Class Basketball '24; Class Volleyball '25.

Henry "Green" is one of those boys who seem always to have something witty to say. But Henry hasn't let his jokes keep him from his lessons, and he has been an earnest worker. Also in athletics he has taken an active part.

RALPH McIVER
"GREENY"

"Let me but bear your love and I'll bear your cares."

Varsity Football '23, '24; Athenian Literary Society '24, '25; Class Basketball '22, '23, '24; Varsity Baseball '23, '24.

Ralph is a good sport, and is one of our best football players. When he makes up his mind to do a thing its just as good as done. Thus we have the combination of good sport, athlete, and one who possesses a determination to win. With these excellent qualities "Greeny" has been one of our most popular boys.

BESSIE McKINNEY
"BESS"

*"Not too serious, not too gay,
But a rare good fellow when it come to play."*

Phalo Literary Society '24, '25.

It was a red letter day in the history of the class of '25 when Bessie joined us. She has been with us only one year, and we wonder how we ever did without her. "Bess" is a good student, always keeping at the top in whatever she undertakes. Her motto is, "I can". If she rises to the top in life as she has in school there's no telling what her future will be.

EDWIN McPHERSON
"ED"

"As full of spirit as the month of May."

Boys' Glee Club '24, '25; Track '24, '25; Varsity Football '24; Euphonian Literary Society '23, '24, '25.

"Ed" is a genius in everything from track to drawing. He enters into all school affairs wholeheartedly, and is always ready to help when he can. After a close study of his personality we have no fear of predicting a brilliant future for him as a business man.

MILDRED PERRY McPHERSON
"MIMIE"

"A little body doth often harbor a great soul."

Phalo Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25.

Mildred is one of the smallest members of our class and believes in the old saying "little people should be seen and not heard." She has an even temper, a quiet and gentle disposition, and always goes about her work with a will. Mildred, as a general rule, never misses a question which the teacher asks her. Whatever her aspirations in life may be, she will succeed, if she puts forth as great an effort as she has in school.

CARDWELL MEADOR
"POTS"

"Ambition? Yes I have ambition."

Euphonian Literary Society '25; Latin Club '25; Boys' Glee Club '22, '23, '24, '25.

If you want to laugh, then go and find "Pots." If you want to argue, but don't mind losing, then "Pots" is just the person you want. He is a jolly good sport, and likes to have a good time. We have all enjoyed being with him and are expecting great things of him in the future.

BERYL ELIZABETH MONTGOMERY

"RIPPLE"

"Modest and sweet, calm and sincere."

Phalo Literary Society '23, '24; Hesperian Literary Society '24, '25.

During her four years with us, Beryl has been held in high esteem by those who have known her. She is very fond of out-door sports, especially hiking. She is faithful and thorough in any task set for her to perform. Especially is she interested in literature and we shall not be surprised in the future to hear of our classmate's becoming a famous authoress.

NEVIDA MONTGOMERY

"VIDY"

"Her manners are not idle, but the fruit of loyal nature and of noble mind."

Philomean Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25; Press Reporter Philomean Literary Society '25; Olympian Latin Club '25.

Although Nevada works unobtrusively, she is always striving toward some lofty purpose. Her musical ability and studiousness are recognized by all. She has a host of friends both among the teachers and the pupils. She is a star in geometry, as well as in everything else, and we are sure that she will always be a success in whatever she chooses as her life's work.

BEULAH MAE MORTON

"BEULLY"

"Not too grave, not too gay, but just a jolly good fellow."

Phalo Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Philomean Literary Society '24, '25; Class Basketball '23, '24; Tennis '23, '25; Girls' Athletic Association '25.

Beulah is a jolly, sweet girl, full of fun and wit. Wherever you see her, you see a smile, for she carries one with her always. Her motto is, "Do not let studying interfere with education." She knows well how to have a "big time", but does find some time for studying, even on geometry.

JOHN NICHOLS

"LAFFIN ANGEL"

"What is admired by the whole human race Is the beaming smile on this man's face."

Art Editor of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '25; Varsity Baseball '22, '23, '24; Captain Baseball '23, '24; Varsity Football '22, '23, '24; Varsity Basketball '25; Athenian Literary Society '22, '23; Euphonian Literary Society '24, '25; Hi-Y Club '23, '24, '25.

School life without the association and friendship of "Laffin Angel" would be a failure. He is an athlete of no mean degree and a comedian who never lacks an audience. He makes friends readily, and probably no other member of the Senior class is better known to the entire school.

KENT PATE

"SHAGGY"

"His time is forever, everywhere his place."

Athenian Literary Society '25.

Kent, though small in stature, and a mere baby in years, has proved himself one of the most studious members of our class. He passes up the fair sex with little thought. Whatever vocation he may choose, we are sure his "90's and 95's" will take him through.

MARIAN RUTH PERRY

"RUBY"

*"You'll always find her true and just,
A girl whom all will love and trust."*

Phalo Literary Society '20, '21; Philomean Literary Society '21, '22, '23, '24, '25; Girls' Glee Club '24, '25; Tennis '24, '25.

Ruth always has a smile and is ready to join in any fun. Her sunny disposition wins her a host of friends and a bright future looms before her. It has been a pleasure to have her with us. Too much cannot be said in her praise.

JULIA PAGE POTTER

"TEXAS"

"She can who thinks she can."

Phalo Literary Society '21, '22, '23, '24, '25; Girls' Glee Club '22, '23, '24, '25.

All the way from Texas, '25 called Julia Page, and she became one of our most popular girls from the time she arrived in our school. Her motto is "Have Fun", and she has added much to our class by her humor. We feel sure that some day Julia Page will be great and famous, and we shall be able to keep in touch with her through some broad-casting station.

JESSIE HOYT QUAKENBUSH

"GOOBER"

"The secret of success is constancy to purpose."

Phalo Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Hesperian Literary Society '25; Girls' Athletic Association '25; Tennis '25.

Jessie is one of our favorite girls. She meets her dark days with a smile. The loyalty that she has displayed toward our class can never be forgotten. No matter what she may choose for a profession you may count on her for success.

CLARA CORINNA RUDD

"CLARISSA"

*"A smile for all, a greeting glad,
An amiable, jolly way she had."*

President Philomean Literary Society '25; Glee Club '23, '24, '25.

Clara is always happy; her smile is a part of her. Whether it be in school, or at home, that same bright, cheerful disposition is ever present. It has made her numerous friends, both among her classmates and the faculty. Her eyes brim with a spark of understanding and a spark of mischief, which plays havoc with members of the opposite sex. With her steadfastness of purpose, gift of application, and her ability, the harbor of success will surely be her haven; and in the minds and hearts of the members of the class of 1925 she will always be remembered as that rare combination, good student and "good fellow".

CAROLYN LOUISE RUFFIN

"LOU"

*"Wilt thou have music?
Then seek her."*

Girls' Glee Club '25; High School Orchestra '25; Alvin Literary Society '25.

The Senior class of B. H. S. came to school last September to find itself richer by several new members. One of them was none other than Louise Ruffin. Her pleasing personality has won our love and friendship. Louise displays great talent as a pianist. She has added much to the happiness of our Senior year, and we will miss her wonderful music when she returns to her home in Powellsville, N. C.

JAMES HARRISON SIMPSON

"SIMP"

*"Well, be it dusk time or noon time
I ask but one small boon, Time."*

Class Volley-ball '24; Treasurer of Euphonian Literary Society '24; High School Orchestra '25; Glee Club '25; President of Excelsior Literary Society '25; Class Cheer Leader '23, '24.

Harrison is a dignified young man; does his part in all things and can be depended upon. He has convictions and a mind of his own and is ready to defend whatever he believes is right. He is bound to succeed for he has the "grit, grace, and gumption."

PAUL SIMPSON

"HARD ROCK"

"One who never turned his back, but marched breast forward."

Varsity Track '22, '23, '24, '25; Captain Track '23; Manager Track '25; Varsity Football '22, '24; Vice-President Euphonian Literary Society '23, '24; President Euphonian Literary Society '24, '25; Glee Club '23, '24, '25.

Whether it be in the class room or on the athletic field Paul always does his best and usually excels. His broad smile and cherry greeting have won for him the friendship of every student of the school.

GLADYS IRENE SPOON

"JACK"

*"Neatness, simplicity, kindness combined
With a gentle heart and open mind."*

Alvin Literary Society '24, '25; Baseball '25; Girls' Athletic Association '25.

Gladys is one of our most diligent and faithful students. She is gentle, and kind, and is liked by all her classmates. Her sense of humor triumphs over any occasion and we are always glad to have her around.

ERMA STADLER

"JACK"

*"I pin my faith to no man's sleeve,
Have I not two eyes of my own?"*

Track '25; Vice-President Girls' Athletic Association '25; Secretary and Treasurer Phalo Literary Society '23; President Hesperian Literary Society '25; Girls' Glee Club '23, '24, '25; Class Secretary and Treasurer '23; Class Basketball '21, '22; Varsity Basketball '23, '24, '25; Captain Varsity Basketball '23, '24, '25; Hiking Club '25.

Erma is an expert at anything from throwing "goals" in basketball games to bouncing the ball down the aisle at Harmonica contests. With her cheerful, and carefree disposition "Jack" has won many friends in the class of '25.

GEORGE WALLACE STAFFORD

"CURLY"

*"Loyal hearted, strong of mind,
A nobler fellow you'll never find."*

Athenian Literary Society '23; Press Reporter Athenian Literary Society '24; Treasurer Athenian Literary Society '25; Treasurer Hi-Y Club '25; Basketball '24, '25; Class Basketball '24; Football '25; Treasurer Tennis Association '25.

The class of '25 could not have got along at all without the aid of G. W. and his Ford. Whenever either was needed, both were on hand "rarin" to go. He is always to be found on the side lines when Burlington is playing, and without his "yelling" we feel sure we could never have won.

LONZIE TATE

"LIZZIE"

"Every man is the architect of his own future."

Varsity Basketball '23, '24, '25; Varsity Baseball '24, '25.

Lonzie is an "all-round" good sport. He showed his ability as an athlete on the basketball and baseball teams. He leaves a host of friends, both among the teachers and the pupils. We are sure that success awaits him in the future.

RUTH LEE TEAGUE

"TIG"

*"Age cannot wither, nor custom
Stale her infinite variety."*

Phalo Literary Society '21, '22, '23; Vice-President Phalo Literary Society '23; Hesperian Literary Society '24, '25.

Here's to Ruth, one of the jolliest girls in our class. She is bubbling over with energy and fun. She makes friends easily, because of her friendly ways and keen sense of humor. Good luck to you, old girl!

MARGARET DEAN THOMAS

"PIKE"

*"Hang sorrow, care will kill a cat,
And, therefore, let's be merry."*

Philomean Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Hesperian Literary Society '24, '25; Glee Club '24, '25; Tennis '24, '25; Athletic Association '25.

Margaret came to us this year from the class of '26. She is a jolly good sport, always cheerful and happy and this has won her many friends among us. In the field of scholarships her good grades speak for themselves. Her loyalty to '25 is rivaled only by '25's loyalty to her.

INEZ THOMPSON

"SNEEZAR"

"This is a maid of slight mold, with a heart and head of pure gold."

Phalo Literary Society '23, '24; Alvin Literary Society '25; Girls' Athletic Association '25.

Inez is small and dainty. She is very quiet, when the teacher is looking at her. Although her name is Inez, we know her better as "Sneezar". Inez is cheerful, lighthearted, and gay. She is always diligent in her studies, but is never too busy to help you when you need assistance. Inez is an asset to her class, and we are all glad to claim her as one of us. We are sure that she will be a success in whatever she may undertake to do. Luck to you, "Sneezar"!

KENT BOONE THOMPSON

"BEEFY"

"Much study is a weariness of the flesh."

Athenian Literary Society '23; Excelsior Literary Society '25; Varsity Football '23, '24; Class Volleyball '25.

Kent is ready and willing at all times to fight and play for the school. He did great work in football.

MARGARET SCELENE THOMPSON

"TOM"

"Never idle a moment, but thrifty and thoughtful of others."

Philomean Literary Society '24, '25; Hesperian Literary Society '25.

If you are looking for a conscientious worker here she is. Although Scelene has been with us only three years she has made for herself a very creditable record. She believes that in order to have friends one must show himself friendly, and she lives up to her belief.

JEWEL VESTER TRUITT

"DIAMOND"

"And those around her, from her shall learn The perfect ways of honor."

Phalo Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25; Glee Club '24, '25; Honesty Representative of Junior Class '24; Class Historian '25.

There is no one quite like Jewel. She has high ambitions and wonderful ability. No task is too hard for her to tackle, and when she expresses her opinion it's worth hearing. She is faithful to all duties, and goes about her work quietly. Jewel is earnest, sincere, and kind to everyone, with a most delightful personality, and lofty ideals. During the four years of her high school course with us she has stood at the top. We are looking forward to a great future for Jewel and we are proud to claim her as ours.

ROSA ETHEL WALKER

"BUZZU"

"Quick to learn, wise to know."

Olympian Latin Club '25; Phalo Literary Society '25.

There is not anything too small or too big for Ethel to tackle. If she doesn't succeed the first time, she tries again. Ethel is a very quiet girl, doesn't talk very much but every word she says counts for something. She has won the respect of all the members of her class and we are glad to claim her as one of us.

RUTH MOORE WALKER

"RUNT"

"Most precious treasures often come Wrapt in the smallest packages."

Phalo Literary Society '22; Philomean Literary Society '23, '24, '25.

Though little, "Runt" is capable of doing any task assigned to her. She is liked, because of her disposition, and her wit, and she can always be counted on. Ruth is as studious as she is witty. We hope she will succeed in life as well as she has in her school career.

MILDRED IRENE WALTERS

"MILLIE"

"A quiet girl is always to be admired more than a noisy one."

Philomean Literary Society '23, '24, '25; Secretary and Treasurer Philomean Literary Society '25.

Mildred is quiet, as we all know, but no doubt there are some among us who know how long headed she is. She is always cheerful and lighthearted. This quality causes her to go after her lessons with zest; she made four years in three, and still found plenty of time for laughter.

LYNETTE WARREN

"TED"

*"Her joys are deep as the ocean
Her troubles as light as the foam."*

Phalo Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25; Snapshot Editor of "Doe-Wah-Jack" '25; Tennis Club '23, '24.

Lynette is a girl who is always jolly and full of fun. She is bubbling over with pep. She knows how to have a good time and study a little between times. We find in her a good pal always. Her personality makes school life more enjoyable. During her Senior year she has distinguished herself in American History. We wonder why!

BERTHA GENEVA WHITE

"BESHY"

"A well-timed silence hath more eloquence than speech."

President of Freshman Class of '26; Vice-President of Class '25; President Philomene Literary Society '25; Girls' Glee Club '23, '24, '25.

Bertha is known to her many friends by her cheerful and sunny disposition. Hers is a willing spirit. She takes a leading part in plays and cantatas, and sings well. If you want to know whether or not she can cook, just ask Miss White. Although she has finished her high school work in three years, she has performed every task faithfully and thoroughly. The class expects her name to be written on the pages of history among the greatest characters of her time.

FLOYD WHITFIELD

"DEACON"

"Never do today what can be put off till tomorrow."

Athenian Literary Society '21, '22, '23, '24; Euphonian Literary Society '24, '25; Football '24; Baseball '24, '25; Varsity Track '23, '24, '25.

"Deacon" is a good natured boy and one of the most carefree ones in the class. He has participated in all forms of athletics from sweeping to track, where he is our record breaker. He has won fame for himself and the school in these track meets. He has been exposed to his studies all year, but "Deacon" never worries about dangers of any kind. Who knows but what he may some day be a trombone player in Sousa's Band, a great comedian, or an athletic director in some school. You can never tell!

BANKS WHITTED

"EFFIE"

*"He holds no parley with unmanly fears;
Where duty bids he confidently steers."*

Euphonian Literary Society '22, '23, '24; Athenian Literary Society '25; Track '25; Hi-Y Club '25.

Banks is known for his consideration and courtesy. He has proved himself worthy of the confidence placed in him. With fidelity to every trust, he has been a loyal member of the class.

CALVIN FREELAND WORKMEN

"MAJOR"

"An appetite insatiable for oratory and debate."

Euphonian Literary Society '22, '23, '24, '25; Hi-Y Club '23; Varsity Football '24; Class Basketball '23, '24; Class Volley-ball '25.

Freeland, in his school and literary society work, is a helper as well as a leader. When he is asked to do something he never fails to do his best. He is one of our best football players, and has done much to help Burlington "win". Freeland is liked by girls and boys; in fact, he is a general favorite of B. H. S.

Senior Class History

ON SEPTEMBER 14, 1921, one hundred and twenty-eight carefree and green Freshmen boarded the High School Ship for the far away port of Knowledge. We had had as yet few very trying experiences on the Sea of Learning. It did not take us long to realize that there were seamen on board our ship who were more experienced than we—the Juniors and Seniors they called themselves. We organized our class and chose as president one of our most capable members, Fern Lasley. Other oarsmen who were chosen to help her guide our vessel over the rough Sea of Learning were Graves Holt, vice-president, and Erma Stadler, secretary and treasurer.

During the first part of our voyage on board the High School Ship, a Hallowe'en Social was given us by the Sophomores. When the summons to sports was heard, a few months later, a large number of our boys and girls entered athletics, but we saved our letters and our stars for a later trip. Under the very efficient leadership of Mr. Charles W. Davis, and the other members of the faculty, we entered, on June 2, 1922, the port of Freshman Vacation, a happier and a wiser crew.

After three months of rest, which we had felt in June that we needed, we were eager to go on board our ship again. Since our former captain had left us, we met a new captain, Mr. Donnell Van Noppen. Our crew numbered 107, and we organized under the leadership of Graves Holt, president; Irene Holder, vice-president; and Fern Lasley, secretary and treasurer. This was a glorious year. We made the other classes realize that we were capable of hard work and of taking a leading part in real sport. We carried off the laurels for class basketball and baseball. We had five men on the varsity football team. One of the high school cheer leaders was from our class. Our prominence did not stop here by any means, for we took a very decided lead in scholarship. When we had crossed the waters that lie between the port of Freshman Vacation and Sophomore Vacation, we hailed into the latter for the purpose of taking on food and fuel.

After our ship had remained in the port of Sophomore Vacation for three months, we began our voyage again. For this third part of our voyage the following officers rendered us their efficient service: Roy Whitley, president; Bertha White, vice-president; Lucy Boone, secretary; and Lyla Brown, treasurer. Again we were welcomed by a new captain, Mr. W. D. Halfacre. We were once more the undisputed champions in class basketball. During that memorable year we had seven men on the football team, seven took part in baseball, nine in basketball, four in tennis, and ten in track. The baseball captain was from our class. Several of our men won medals for track work. One set a new state record for the half-mile run, breaking the old record by five seconds. Our class made a notable showing in other extra curricula activities, for it had a good representation in the Glee Clubs, the Hi-Y Club, and the Literary Societies.

In order to entertain the Seniors while on the third part of our voyage, we stopped over in a Chinese tea garden for the evening of May 25. We paid the bill-of-fare reluctantly, hoping that we might receive full value plus compound interest when we should become Seniors.

After the next stop had been made, we entered upon the last part of our voyage. We were nothing less than High and Mighty SENIORS. Early in the year our class organized with the following officers in charge of the steering of our vessel: Sully Oldham, president; Dan Loy, vice-president; Lyda Brown, secretary; and Roy Whitley, treasurer. We organized with ninety-one members, the largest Senior class in the history of Burlington High School. Upon us devolved the responsibility of editing the "Doe-Wah-Jack"; of setting an example for the lower classmen; and of becoming the recipients of all the Senior privileges. We again starred on the athletic field. The high school cheer leaders were from the Senior class. The boys were active in all outdoor sports, while the girls carried the Girls' Basketball team to victory over and over again. A Girls' Athletic Association, organized in the high school, was both boosted and supported by the Senior girls.

During the happiest and most fruitful year of our voyage (for we had begun to reap where we had sown) the Junior class entertained us at a royal banquet. Another occasion of much enjoyment was an informal entertainment of the Boys' and Girls' Basketball squads by the Seniors and the Faculty. Under the direction of our principal and the high school faculty, we gave a play. We donated the proceeds to a "Senior Fund" started by us, which we hoped the succeeding Senior classes would increase in a similar way.

We mastered the circumference of amo, the declension of an isosceles triangle, and the conjugation of the Geometry verb "Vécole." We struggled with Math., English, History, French, and Latin courses until it seemed as if we should have nervous prostration but, behold! Just in front of us, our reward!

The faculty found great pleasure in accompanying the class 1925 over the very rough and troublesome waters of the Sea of Learning. Their greatest delight was to give us "pop tests." These tests were both as unexpected and as disastrous as the Culex mosquito in the Sahara desert. The little red grade books of each of our teachers testified to this statement.

Since history records the work of the great, this document may well be called a history. For were we not illustrious seafaring students, struggling as many others had struggled before us? Certainly you will grant that we performed every task that was assigned to us as faithfully as could have been expected from a class of boys and girls, who were equally interested in class work, sports and every form of diversion.

JEWEL TRUITT, '25.

Senior Class Poem

Since childhood we have worked
To gain heights of success;
No duty have we shirked
But worked for B. H. S.
And now that we are leaving
Our Alma Mater dear,
Our love shall never cease,
Tho' we roam far from here.

To our colors, blue and gold,
We've been steadfastly true;
And under this banner
We've dared arise and do.
We've aided on the side lines
As well as in the games;
We've done our part at all times,
Shared in losses and in gains.

Not all our work was fun,
Nor has it all been pain;
No effort that we've made
Has ever proved in vain.
And as we go thru years,
As life and fame unfold,
We'll bravely banish fears
And strive to reach our goal.

Teachers, to you we give
Respect your work is due;
We'll do the things you've taught
And worthwhile things pursue.
To you we owe today
Part of the gained success.
We wish you on the way
Of life, God's very best.

We'll never be behind,
But forward we will strive
To win the highest honor
For the Class of Twenty-five.
And if success should come
While climbing round by round,
We'll gladly turn to B. H. S.
And lay our trophies down.

With heavy laden hearts,
And eyes that fill with tears
We make plans to depart
Nor return in future years.
So—to our teachers kind
And jolly schoolmates too,
It grieves us much to say
A fond farewell to you.

Class Prophecy

312 Riverside Drive,
New York City,
May 29, 1945.

ETHELTYNE, DEAR,

Aren't commencements funny? I used to wonder why they were called commencements, for they seemed to me more like the end than the beginning of things. Yet I have had more of them than is usual, even for a girl who is just recuperating from her own college graduation. I did begin rather young though. I wonder if you remember our first commencement? Of course I was too little to understand what mother meant when she spoke of my being mascot of the Senior Class of the Burlington High School back in 1925. But this afternoon when I was packing away the cap and gown which I wore in my last commencement, and came across the little blue bonnet with gold ruffles which I had worn in my very first, I almost imagined I could remember when I was one year old. Of course it is only because I have heard so much about that famous class of '25 that I feel as though I had known them then. I have naturally been interested in them, and it's really surprising how many I have come in contact with, or heard of, recently.

Among the features of our commencement here were addresses by the famous archaeologists, John Ireland and Delos Elder. I was interested to hear them comment on the very astonishing theory advanced by Professors Lonzie Tate and Willard Clapp concerning radio. They maintained that radios must have existed since 300 B. C. and based their theory on the fact that no wires were found in a very ancient Greek city recently excavated.

Just the other day I noticed in the New York Times that the Supreme Court had convened, and who do you suppose was Judge? Sully Oldham, president of the Senior Class of '25. I noticed in the same paper that one of the important cases to be tried was that of Bruce Durham vs. the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, of which Allan Hall is president. Mr. Durham was suing the company for $50,000, claiming that they cruelly and maliciously murdered one of his prize pigs. Bruce is now conducting an extensive pig farm in Ohio where he successfully trains pigs for performances in circuses, so he values them very highly. The lawyers were for the plaintiff; Messrs. Freeland Workman and Kent Pate; the defendant, Miss Viola Durant and Mr. Morden Buek. The fight will probably be a hard one, because the lawyers are well matched.

I attended the New Amsterdam Theater last night, and was very much surprised to see that Fern Lasley, Julia Ireland, Erma Stadler, and Ruth Walker were the main attractions, and have gained great favor in the Zeigfield Follies. I noticed that Lyla Brown was playing the leading role in "The Queen of the Radios" at the Broadway Theatre. Starring with her was Graves Holt; other leading characters were Lynnette Warren and Henry Love. Mary Elizabeth Cheek is thrilling the movie audiences of America. She is the leading lady of the Trashy Corporation Company. Playing opposite her is P. Nüt Fogleman. Would you ever have thought it?

And would you have thought that Banks Whitted would be Major-Surgeon at John Hopkins? Well, he is, and on his nursing staff are four other members of '25: Harriette Cates, Andrew Graec Johnston, Ruth Burke, and Juanita Amick.

Most of the other members of the class have sought for fame nearer home and have found it. Take Dace Jones for example. I guess he had attained his ambition, as he is now manager of the Alamance Laundry; however he gained this position not through merit especially, but by his matrimonial victories.

By the way, Burlington now has a New High School Building, much larger and more convenient than the old one, and about two blocks from the former site. George Hunter is superintendent, Vallie Griffith teaches Physical Torture; Julia Page Potter, Palmistry; Bertha White, Vocal Gymnastics; and Eliza Mac Durham, "Easy Methods of Learning Geometry." The old building has been leased to Bill Ellis, who is the executive manager of "Choo-Mo" chewing gum. I also understand that his interest in—"geometry"—has not waned.

New amusements have been afforded the patrons of "Kent's Vaudeville," named from Kent Thompson, its proprietor, and occupying the stand of the Old "Maek." The stars are Frank DeMoss and John Nichols. Walter Brown has opened a dancing Academy in Graham.

I fear that the young ladies are attracted to his school more by his handsome physiognomy than by their desire to learn the modern dances. The stars of "Kent's Vaudeville" have learned the art of "flat footing" in the "slap-stick" comedies from Mr. Brown, to whom a large portion of their success is due.

Ruth Lee Boland, class poet, has not allowed her poetic ability to lapse, as she is now the editor of the "Whiz Bang." Another literary genius is Thames Apple. Thames' latest essay is entitled "Advantages and Disadvantages of Fishing Trips" (taken from life.)

One of the latest modern inventions, that of the non-inflammable curling iron for men only, was perfected by George Stafford. Henry Johnston is the exclusive dealer in this commodity, which has brought a great deal of fame to Burlington.

Hildah Keck and Mary Louise Brown are touring Chatham and Caswell Counties to raise funds for the establishment of a home for old, disabled and ill-treated teachers. Others interested in the humane treatment of animals are Margaret Thomas and Sara Kail. They are operating a canary hospital in Chicago, Illinois. Paul Simpson is teaching the crippled canaries to fly with crutches.

Ed. Curlee is displaying his editorial ability on the "Police Gazette," which has moved its national headquarters to Burlington. He gets special rates on his printing from Willie Ingle and Harrison Simpson, local printers and engravers, who specialize in wedding invitations and cards of condolence.

Do you remember where the Misses Freeland's Milliner Shop was, down there on the corner of Front and Spring Streets? Well, Ruth Perry and Wilmer Holt bought them out several years ago, and are continuing the sale of the old stock. The only recent change is that they have taken Cardwell Meador in as their partner, and no further innovations will be made until news is received of their buyers, Clara Rudd, Louise Ruffin, and Ruth Davis, who embarked a few months ago on a voyage on Stony Creek in search of styles. They must be still searching, for they have not been heard of.

Beulah Morton has signed a contract with the manager of Paris Fashions to be a model, and will sail next week for this fashionable city. She takes as her secretary Mildred McPherson.

I learned that Dan Loy, the general manager of the Burlington 5 & 10c Mail Order House, is about to put Woolworth's, and Sears and Roebuck out of commission. He sells anything from Fords to Rat Traps—Nothing over 10c!

Levi Whitfield is road constructor for the Bunk's Constructing Company (Browning), and with his force of workmen is constructing an air highway from "Plumnelly" all the way and back. Mildred Walters will be traffic cop as soon as the highway is completed.

Burlington now has a million dollar community building. Lucille Angel is in charge of the library, the most complete in the south, and has for her assistant Doris Apple.

Beryl and Nevada Montgomery have been secured as lawyers for the Burlington-Graham Public Service Company. These girls have great arguing ability and are now in position to use it.

Sewpsonville, a thriving suburb of this city, is very fortunate in having two citizens from the class of '25. Iver Johnson is the Chief of Police, who believes in letting well enough alone. (That's why the town can't grow). Ed. McPherson is still connected with dairy life, as he is manager of Branch No. 7 of Spoon's Dairy in Sewpsonville.

Ruth Lee Teague, Jessie Quakenhush, Jewell Truitt, and Betsy Dark are doing good work in the Salvation Army at Saxapahaw. Roy Whitley is pastor of the Eighth Presbyterian Church in the same city. Scelene Thompson has just been sent as a missionary from this church to Brazil, and it was due largely to the efforts of the local practitioner, Ted Brown, that the church was able to raise the funds.

The County Home Demonstrator for Alamance County is Gladys Spoon. As her assistants she has Inez Thompson and Bessie McKinney. Miss Spoon is successor to Ethel Walker, who left the first of the month to become the bride of Count No Count.

Commencements are funny things you'll agree, since they start such volumes as this, but no graduate would be without one, and personally I'm strong for graduates, past, present, and future.

BETTY.

The Departing Seniors

*The glorious goal attained at last
We pause a moment to view the past.
In many things we have excelled,
The hardest tasks we have compelled
To aid us in the onward march of progress.*
WE ARE SENIORS.

*Four winters we have stood together
Friendships formed to last forever.
As comrades we've been laughing and gay
Screwing each other from day to day
With always a thought of the promised reward.*
WE ARE SENIORS.

*Our athletic ability far surpasses
The attempts of all other classes.
Varsity teams, of our members composed,
Gates of victory for rival teams closed.
This adds to the honor and glory of our class.*
WE ARE SENIORS.

*We have come to the parting of the road;
Each must take up a separate load,
And follow where'er his path may lead.
In places far, of which we read,
With still a thought of the days gone by.*
WHEN WE WERE SENIORS.

*'Tis sad to think the parting near;
The leaving of our friends so dear.
Some, the cold gray earth will claim;
Others will rise to the heights of fame,
But ne'er lose sight of days gone by.*
WHEN WE WERE SENIORS.

*Silver threads 'mong black and gold
In days to come when we are old.
When glamorous days are left behind
The happiest thoughts that fill our mind
Will be of the days of long ago.*
WHEN WE WERE SENIORS.

C. F. WORKMAN, '25.

Last Will and Testament

WE, THE SENIOR CLASS OF BURLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL, being of feeble mind and disposing disposition; and being on the verge of abandoning these stately halls of learning, do make this our last will and testament, hereby declaring null and void all other wills or promises heretofore extracted from us under pressure.

ARTICLE I

To our dearly beloved faculty, we leave our splendid grades and good behavior to the end that we be living examples of all that may be good and studious, held up by them to inspire the oncoming classes to reach the goal that we have attained.

ARTICLE II

To the Junior Class, we leave all our Senior privileges, our Senior dignity, and the pleasure of getting out a Year Book. The first will be gained by bestowal, the second by acquisition, and the third by perspiration.

To the Sophomores, because of their dire need, we leave our brilliancy and "pep," with sincerest hopes that they may use them in both literary and athletic fields.

To the "class of '28" we bequeath all our science and English notebooks, to relieve them of the customary weeping and gnashing of teeth caused by such necessary evils.

ARTICLE III

Betsy Dark, Erma Stadler, and Vallie Griffith bequeath their basketball prowess to Elizabeth Hinshaw, Clara Sharpe, and Ruby Goins.

Bertha White, Mary Louise Brown, and Lucy Boone sacrificially bestow upon the cooking class of '26 the inestimable privilege of cleaning the oil-stoves and performing other recreational housekeeper's duties.

Allen Hall, Ted Brown, and Frank DeMoss bequeath their hypnotic powers and their method of acquiring Eskimo pies to Nat Fowler.

To Hazel Thompson, Clara Rudd generously leaves her pleasing smiles and cheerful disposition.

Ruth Lee Boland bequeaths Dwight Lankford to Alyse Smith, with the request that she keeps his mouth closed on windy days.

Sully Oldham bequeaths his extraordinary privilege of feeding the girls potato chips to Roy Clarke, the sole proviso being that he never let the afore-mentioned girls want for the said chips.

Ruth Davis with great sacrifice wills her favorite expression "quit that" to Swannie Black.

"Peanut" Fogleman wills to Ashby Robertson his height, as the said legatee needs just this amount to make him of average size.

Fern Lasley and Edmund Curlee will their record of making 95's to Pollard Isley and Guy Éphiland.

Thames Apple bequeaths the echoes of her giggles and hearty laughs to the resounding halls of the school building.

John Nichols wills his brain (after he is dead) to Mr. Leonard, that the advanced classes in science may cut, examine, and analyze that wonder of all ages—man's brain.

Lyla Brown wills her curls to Kermit Neese with hope that this will defray the cost of the curling irons and electric bills of said legatee.

Margaret Thomas, Julia Ireland, and Ruth Perry will their compacts as well as all their other beauty accessories to Erma Love, Mildred Trollinger, and Mildred Holt.

Graves Holt, William Ellis, and George Hunter leave their standing among the girls to Vernon Jones, Thomas Knott, and Durward Stokes.

Walter Brown leaves the copyright on his latest manuscript "Shiek and ye shall find" to W. H. May, Jr., that H. may be as successful as Walter has been along this line during his Senior days.

Red Jones wills a lock of his auburn hair to Jule Holt to light him on his way over the dark and rugged paths of knowledge.

Ruth Lee Burke and Freeland Workman bequeath their boundless vocabularies to Allie Hawn and Thomas Bradshaw, on condition that said vocabularies be returned at any time the original owners may feel the need of them.

Morden Buck wills his position as assistant teacher and bureau of general information to Allen Warren.

Mary Elizabeth Cheek wills her position, beating the snare drum in the orchestra to Edith Holt.

Andrew Grace Johnston leaves her supply of miscellaneous news to Velna Gregg. The legatee will find this useful for causing the teachers temporarily, or even permanently, to forget Monday morning written lessons.

Eliza Mae Durham wills her ability as cheer leader to Hazel Pickett, with instructions that she foster the school spirit and "pep" which the present Seniors introduced.

In testimony whereof, we hereby, appoint as executor of this, our last will and testament, Mr. W. D. Halfacre, with the assurance that anyone failing to abide by any of the provisions of said document will be severely penalized by having to subtract.

We do hereby subscribe our names and affix our seal, this the twenty-eighth day of May, the Year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five.

The Class of '26

A HISTORICAL PLAY IN FOUR ACTS

Time—1922-1926.

Place—The Burlington High School.

Dramatis Personae—The Members of the Class of 1926.

ACT I

SCENE I

An eighth grade room in which there are four freshmen: Mary, the frivolous one; Jane, the serious one; John, a class leader; and George, an athlete; discussing school affairs.

Jane—Mary, do you realize that we are now beginning our journey through high school? Oh, I've been dreaming about this for such a long time. Think how fine it is to be real high school students.

Mary—Well, I am glad, 'cause we'll seem so much more important. But have you seen all those new girls and boys? Some of them seem quite peppy. Oh, there are John and George. Hello, boys, this isn't much like seventh grade, is it?

John—So far, I haven't seen much difference; just a few more teachers, that's all.

George—Shucks! They're gone and separated John and me. I'm in Mr. Rainey's room and he's in Miss Kersey's. I don't see why we can't be in the rooms we want to be in.

Mary—Yes, that's just what they've done to Jane and me, too. She's in Miss Webster's room and I'm in Mr. Rainey's.

George—That's right, you are in my room.

Mary—Oh, I don't care anything about being in your room. But there's one consolation, we have to go to different classes up here, and maybe Jane and I will be together sometime.

SCENE II

The last day of school, June 2, 1923. In an eighth grade room.

Enter Mary, Jane, John, and George.

Jane—Just think, we are almost Sophomores! Are you glad that this is the last day of school? Somehow, I'm kind of sorry—but yet, I'm glad, too.

Mary—Oh! I'm so thrilled about being a Sophomore. Everybody makes fun of Freshman. I've had a good time this year, though. Gee! I just did pull through.

John—Say, there's not as much difference in high school and grammar school as I thought there'd be. We have a better time with the whole class, that's all. Didn't we have a good time on that picnic and Weiner roast over at Kernodle's Farm?

Jane—The only sad things that have happened to us are the deaths of Finley Coble and Bennett Spoon. Don't you think Bertha White has been a good class president?

George—Yes, she has. I'm certainly proud of the Freshmen class record in athletics; even if the class is considered so unimportant by the other classes.

ACT II

SCENE I

In the latter part of May, 1924.

Enter Jane, Mary, John and George.

Jane—Well folks, pretty soon it will be vacation time again. Oh, how I have enjoyed this year! I believe we have the best class in high school. What do you think about it?

George—I know we have. We've made a great record in everything. We've been represented on every team in all the sports and also had a representative in the Declaimer's Contest. Wasn't that grand about the Jones Brothers winning the loving cup in the Carolina Tennis Championship, and to think that Vernon comes from our class.

Mary—I'd give most anything to have our Sophomore party over again. Oh, didn't we have fun?

John—Deed we did. I'd like to live over a lot of the things that have happened to us in this year. In fact, I don't know how the school could have done without us. Say, let's give two yells, one for "Bob" Councilman, our good old president, and one for the Sophomores.

ACT III

SCENE I

A class-meeting of the Junior class in February, 1925. Plans are being discussed for the Junior-Senior Banquet. Already there has been some discussion between the members of the class and they cannot agree on the place. There is to be quite a "hot time" over this thing. The president, Hal Waddell, is presiding.

The President—This afternoon we want to consider plans for the Junior-Senior Banquet. The place and time have to be decided. Are there any suggestions?

John—Mr. President, I move that we have the banquet at the cafeteria in one of the new school buildings.

President—Is there a second to this motion?

Mary—Mr. President, I second it.

President—Is there any discussion?

George—Mr. President, I don't think we want our banquet at the cafeteria. I believe that is too small and it will be too far from the school. The new hotel might be completed at that time, you know. It would be a dandy place.

President—It seems that we are divided on this question. Is there further discussion?

Jane—Mr. President, we must have the very best banquet possible. You know the Junior class has quite a good reputation and we must live up to it. I think that we should have suggestions from members of the class as to the best plan to adopt now.

President—As Miss Jane has said, we have now come into quite an important position in high school life. We have had a number from our class on all of the teams that have represented our school and we have succeeded very well in every thing. We must not fall down on this banquet. Is there any more discussion?

Roy—Mr. President, we don't want our banquet at the cafeteria. Why not have it in the auditorium as usual?

John—Mr. President, the cafeteria is quite a suitable place, I think. Everything is very convenient there and it will save trouble.

Jane—Mr. President, I believe the only way this can be settled is by appointing a committee and letting them decide this matter as seems best under the circumstances; and since it is getting late, I move we adjourn.

(The president's voice can hardly be heard on account of the noise which meets this motion.)

President—This committee will be appointed. The class is adjourned.

ACT IV

SCENE I

In 1926.

The curtain is run up just for a minute revealing the members of the class of '26, with their faces turned steadfastly toward graduation. A hopeful, yet fun-loving group, determined nevertheless to make of their Senior year the best of all the years; to the end that their Alma Mater may, in years to come, be proud of '26.

Sophomore Song

The Sophomore class of Burlington High Has courage that's quite sublime We'll
The spirit of the Sophomore Class Is admirable indeed We We're loyal to dear B.H.S. And help to make her shine. And when be an honor to our school And excel in every line We toil each day without delay Until we do succeed. To strive

You see the purple and gold. Remember the class called gryphs. And began with a will that makes us want to always follow the r-u-l-e, And to work and to win for us the honors of the d-e-s-i-g-n- And the motto of the Sophomore Class, not for one's self but all. And when comes the test we will do our best To be the best in school day by day in every way, We're learning more and more.

when we're through our work in school, We will have learned it all.

Now singing o'er and o'er Advancing we will go; We'll stay no more at the bottom of the list But to the top we'll go We're off for better lives, To

This mark we will strive We're off for the tasks of higher life with courage on life's way.

Sophomore Class History

WHAT A LONG PERIOD WAS THE SEVEN YEARS in the primary and grammar grades; and when the time came for the class of 1927 to enter high school, how glad we were! Each year in the lower grades we had gained a step on the ladder which lead to our much preferred destination—high school. We were proud to know that we had accomplished our tasks and had reached our goal; though we did not realize then what a serious moment it was.

Then it was that our class with a jolly and happy spirit, set out on the high school journey, September 12, 1923. Though very green we started off with the determination to enjoy high school. Although we were very busy at first, learning the new habits of high school and getting acquainted with our new studies, we felt unusually important.

Early in the Freshman year we organized our class with the following officers: Kern Lee Thompson, president; Olivia Stadler, vice-president; Eleanor Fix, secretary and treasurer; Velna Gregg, and John Highes, critics. We adopted our class colors, which were purple and gold, and our motto: "Non sibi sed omnibus" (Nor for one's self, but for all.) Many of our girls and boys engaged in the athletics of high school and won honors for the Freshmen Class. During the year one of the most enjoyable occasions was a picnic and weiner roast, chaperoned by our teachers, Misses Morrow, Webster, and Mr. Rainey, at Kernodle's Farm. Under the guidance of our teachers, we enjoyed our first year in high school, but we had one ambition, to become Sophomores.

After three months' vacation we returned to school on September 10, 1924. What a glorious feeling it was to think we were at last Sophomores and could look down upon the Freshmen.

We had gained much knowledge by this time from our teachers, Misses Carroll, Scarborough, and Mr. Rhodes. Too, we were now engaging in the activities of our school. There were many new members added to our class and we organized under the leadership of the following: Arnold Qualls, president; Charles Amick, Jr., vice-president; Eleanor Fix, secretary and treasurer; Gertrude Thompson, historian; and Mary Price, editor.

At the first of the year our class went on a picnic and weiner roast chaperoned by Misses Scarborough and White. This year many of our girls and boys are stars on the athletic field and have gained many honors for our class and school. We have had many members on the honor roll and wish to have more in time to come.

We are looking forward this spring to more delightful occasions and especially to the day on which we shall receive our passports to the mystic pleasures of Junior Land. We feel that we have accomplished a great deal this year, and are sure that the future years have in store for us many more pleasures.

The Road to Knowledge

*There is a little road that runs
Straight past my class room door
Over the hills, and over the dales,
And on forevermore*

*Some day I'd like to follow it
And on forever wend,
With good books for company
On, on 'til I reached the end.*

*I'd pass through forests, grim and dark,
O'er trickling, murm'ring rills
Past pleasant ways along the road,
And castle crown'd hills.*

*I'd journey on and on until
I reach the gleaming sand,
And through the sunset glow I'd pass
And enter knowledge land.*

*With carefree smile, and gladsome heart
As I rounded my road's last bend
And saw before me my shining goal,
I'd be at my journey's end.*

MARGARET RIDDLE, '28.

Freshman Class History

SEPTEMBER 10, 1924, one hundred and nine green freshmen continued their perilous pilgrimage to the land of knowledge. The way led through Burlington High School with Misses Webster and Holton, and Mr. McBane as counsellors. The Pilgrim Band was stared down upon by the upper classmen as though they did not remember ever having been freshmen. But nothing daunted, the Travellers pursued the pilgrimage with their banner of pink and white held on high, and their motto "B² and B Y's" firmly implanted in every heart.

The bravest of the pilgrims were selected for leaders; Walter Sharpe, president; William Brown, vice-president; William Shoffner, secretary; and Martha Lou Stokes, treasurer.

At first a few fell into the Slough of Despond, because Talkative had influenced them in favor of fifties and sixties. The teachers acted the parts of Faithful, Per-everance, and Patience, and held afternoon matinees in their honor.

The next obstacle which the pilgrims had to face was the mountain range of Difficulty. The first hill was known as Latin. This being new to the pilgrims, was therefore very hard for them to cross. The other mountains were known as English, Algebra, Science, Civics, and Spelling. Many weary days were spent crossing these hills. Some members of the band were unwillingly left behind.

The Wilderness of Doubt was reached next. Here, Obstinacy, and Confusion, were encountered, and threw the entire camp into consternation. The pilgrims became so thoroughly frightened that they had to have music to cheer them. The musical members of the band came forward, and offered their assistance. Some were talented with the ability to play instrumental selections, and the others' ability lay in chorus work. The splendid athletes also had to assist many pilgrims through the Wilderness.

The Giant Despair was met in the Wilderness. He faced the pilgrims with the appalling fact that perhaps they might not be able to reach the Sophomore year! Many days were spent battling the Giant. He was finally overcome by most of the band.

The Satan of Mischief was present all along the way. He caused many pilgrims to get "Uns's," with not very pleasant results.

As the pilgrims emerged from the Wilderness, they saw before them the shining city, Sophomoredom. After a short rest they will continue their journey to the Sophomore year.

A Song of Liberty

*Oh, take me to that happy land,
If such a land there be,
Where Latin, English, and History
I'll never hear or see.*

*Where altitude and square root
Will not have to be learned,
And phosphorous and sulphur fumes
Need never more be burned.*

*Where George the Third, and James the First
Will be forever dead
And the teachers do not have to pound
The dates into my head.*

*Where Cooper, Scott, and Shakespeare
Will be fore'er forgot,
And everybody will agree
That Grammar is all rot.*

*Oh, take me to that happy land
And I will happy be
"Sermons in stones, and books in brooks"
Are good enough for me.*

The Boys' Glee Club was reorganized in the fall, with many new recruits. Regular practices have been held, and the Club has given several very enjoyable chapel programs. Miss Fulton's untiring efforts and interest have made the work of the club very successful, and plans are being made for representatives of the club to enter the State Musical Contest to be held in Greensboro the latter part of April. Judging by the programs which the Boys' Glee Club has given before the school audience, the school is expecting great things from them in the state contest.

The Girls' Glee Club is planning this year to follow the established precedent, and enter the State Musical Contest at Greensboro. The girls are doing excellent work, and are very much interested in it. The contest in Greensboro in April will probably be a close one, and the school is expecting the Girl's Club to make an excellent showing. Due to the able and enthusiastic work of Miss Fulton, the Director, the club has done splendid work throughout the year.

Hi-Y Club

Motto: "Character Through Service"

Purpose: To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

The Hi-Y Club was organized in the spring of 1922. From the start the club took a stand to uphold honesty and fair play, among the students, with the result that a decided improvement has been noticed. Meetings are held twice each month. The programs are usually of a devotional nature.

Since its organization the club has sent representatives each year to the Older Boys' Conference.

Burlington High School had not had an orchestra until the fall of 1924, but since that time, an organization has been formed of which the school is justly proud. Due to the fact that the school has furnished the instruments, the personnel of the orchestra has been rather larger than would otherwise have been possible.

Since it was organized, the orchestra has had regular practices twice a week, and has done such consistent work that it has been able to give public concerts. In addition, it has furnished music for practically every social event of the school year, and has several times been called upon to play at public functions in town.

The unusual success of the orchestra is due to the interested and efficient leadership of Mr. M. Z. Rhodes, the director, and to the enthusiasm of the student members.

This has been a year of progress and effective work in the high school. For a long time, it had been the dream of Burlington High School to have a band. This dream was realized when an organization was effected under the efficient direction of Mr. M. Z. Rhodes. Actual work began in January. From the beginning the boys have been most enthusiastic and have worked diligently.

Nineteen instruments are now in use, and the band's repertoire is steadily growing. The success of the band is assured, and the future outlook for music in Burlington High School is a happy one.

Sports

Football Squad 1924

B. H. S. opened the season with good prospects in every way. The first game was with High Point. Although this team was considered one of the strongest in the State, B. H. S. managed to hold it to a 13 to 6 score. However, the greatest loss came in the form of injuries. From this time on it was with difficulty that a good first team squad could be kept free from injuries. Even in some of the most important championship games the "main stays" were out on account of injuries.

The B. H. S. fellows have shown to a remarkable degree a spirit of good sportsmanship, and though the odds were against us, our defeats were not inglorious.

We do not believe in the spirit of "win at any price." B. H. S. believes in playing the game in a good clean manner. Its ideal has been that manhood and character should be the goal of its athletics.

Boys' Track Team—Season 1925

The track season of 1925 promises to be a successful one in many respects. About twenty boys began practice early in the season. Out of this number a squad of five was picked to go to Wake Forest College and participate in the State Track Meet conducted by that institution on April 4th. Burlington High School won the meet at Wake Forest College. Those winning points for Burlington were: Captain Edwin McPherson, Manager Paul Simpson, Freeland Workman and Floyd Whitfield.

Track meets in which B. H. S. will be represented include the State Track Meet at Chapel Hill, April 10th, Triangular Meet at Greensboro, May 2nd, and Central Carolina Track Meet at Greensboro on May 9th.

Girls' Track—Season 1925

As a part of the Physical Education program of the High School, the girls began practice in track and field sports in spring of 1925. The extent of competition this year will probably be limited to intra-mural activities.

Every effort is being made to encourage participation in wholesome sports. Each girl is protected from possible injury to health, due to defects, by reason of a thorough physical examination by the School Medical Officer. No one is allowed to participate unless the examination is passed. The local unit of the State High School Girls Athletic Association is responsible for and sponsors the athletic activities for girls, including track, baseball, tennis, volley ball, basketball, hiking and other athletic activities.

The personnel of the track squad include:

B. H. S. Tennis Team

VERNON JONES, GEORGE HUNTER, DACE JONES, EDMUND CURLEE, MORDEN BUCK

In the spring of 1924, B. H. S. tennis squad began limbering up for practice, and upon taking count it was found that all the members of 1923 squad were playing, with several additions who helped the squad through a most successful season.

The first encounter, with the fast Greensboro team, was on the Country Club courts in Greensboro. The match was fast, showing good material on both sides, although Greensboro won.

On April 10, the Burlington team went to Chapel Hill and was among the "runners up" in both singles and doubles. The next match with Winston-Salem was lost, but the return games went easily to Burlington. On the following week, the match with Lexington, marked by the consistent good playing of Ed. Curlee, resulted in a tie.

The last games of the season were played in Central Carolina tournament held in Greensboro under the auspices of the Civitan Club. The Jones Brothers, representing B. H. S. in doubles, defeated Greensboro in preliminaries, and Lexington in the finals, thereby winning the tournament.

This season all of the old team is back, and one of the heaviest schedules ever attempted by B. H. S. is being arranged. Judging by present indications, Burlington has good prospects of winning the majority of the matches.

Girls' Athletic Association

THE REAL AIM OF HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS: may be stated as follows: to encourage boys and girls to remain in school; to develop strong bodies; to give valuable training in obedience, team work, coöperation, and self control, thereby developing mental power and fostering school spirit. The coach who instills these principles into the minds of his players will achieve the real objectives of athletics, even if his teams do not win a game.

During the year of '21 and '22 the girls of Burlington High School participated in only one interscholastic athletic sport. This was basketball, in which everyone took much interest; but which, since only twelve girls could play at one time, was beneficial to a limited number.

In the school year of '22 and '23, however, the girls were permitted to use the tennis court, which heretofore had been reserved for boys. Thus another step was made towards promoting girls' athletics in High School. Baseball was played on the grounds just for sport and pastime. During the year very few high honors were won in the different activities; but preparation was made for future conquests.

The year of '23 and '24 brought about a decided change in athletics, for Miss Lizzie Whitley and Mr. J. V. Dabbs were both secured to direct physical education for the girls and boys. Recognizing more and more the necessity for furthering health, sportsmanship, and school spirit, as well as developing the mind, Burlington High School made an effort to promote and encourage girls' athletics. Fair play was put foremost in the mind of everyone who participated in any competitive game. The fact was emphasized that athletic sports are but branches of the school plant; not the whole, or even the main structure; only a means to an end, not the end itself.

On Friday, December 5, 1924, the girls of Burlington High School met to organize a Girls' Athletic Association following the rules of the State Athletic Association. Miss Whitley and Mr. Dabbs directed the organizing of the association. The girls were intensely interested, and determined to make of their organization one of the best associations in the State. Miss Whitley was appointed faculty head for the entire association; Miss Attrice Kernodle, Faculty Secretary; Misses Ruth Warren, Aura Holton, Margaret Sparger, Edith Carroll, and Elizabeth Scarborough, faculty sponsors. The following officers were elected: President, Betsy Dark; Vice-President, Erma Stadler; Secretary and Treasurer, Lyla Brown; Press Reporter, Fern Lasley.

The first work of the association was to organize the different groups which had signed up for the various sports. A girl who entered these sports had a chance to work for school letters by the point system. The enrollment for the different sports was as follows: baseball, 37; tennis, 35; training, 40; volley ball, 30; track, 25; basketball, 38; hiking, 80.

The girls' basketball team has played an especially important part in High School athletics this year. In spite of having the best sextette that has graced the court of Burlington in the past few years, B. H. S. failed to gain the Western District Championship. Nevertheless, the school is proud to say that the team played ten games during the season, losing only one, and that by a margin of one point. Much credit for the success and spirit of fair play which characterized the team was due to the efficient coaching of Miss Whitley.

Since this is the first year in the history of the school that Track has been introduced for girls, everyone is looking forward to the meet to be held in Winston-Salem, May 2, 1925. With such a large number signed up for the different activities, Burlington expects to do herself credit.

The interest and enthusiasm which have been manifested prove that athletics is becoming more and more a part of the High School life. It certainly should be a very important factor in any girl's life, and it seems that the spirit is growing until soon every healthy, energetic, pleasure loving girl will join in active athletics of some kind.

"Come play the game for all you're worth;
Come play it fair and well;
Keep alive our High School spirit
With shout and song and yell,
Ever nearing victory with a single aim,
For the glory of our school
Always to play the game."

Prospective 1925

Baseball is the oldest sport in the institution, and in past seasons has been fairly successful. The prospects for a good 1925 season are very encouraging. Seven of last year's regulars are back, and preparing for a hard schedule, while a number of capable new men are also on hand. The squad is practicing daily under the tutelage of Coach McBane, a former Guilford College player, and is rapidly rounding into shape. The team will have hearty support when the season opens.

Reception in Honor of Girls' Societies

One of the best planned and best executed social events of the school year occurred Friday evening, February 10, 1925, when the Euphonian, the Athenian, and the Excelsior Literary Societies entertained the four girls' societies.

The first half of the evening was devoted to a very unique program which was given by the boys. Each boys' society gave a humorous stunt. The Athenian Society presented "The Patent Medicine Man" and "Silent Movies"; the Euphonian, "The Circus Minstrel"; and the Excelsior, "Lessons on Entertaining the Ladies."

During the latter half of the evening a musical program was rendered. Dan Loy sang "Marcheta"; Alyse Smith, "A Little Brown Bear" and "Heaven"; and a male quartet, "Sweet Little You," "San," and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Each number was presented with great skill and was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests. The entire evening was a complete success and will always be recalled with the greatest of pleasure.

The Flapper Grandmother

A "Flapper" is gay; a "Flapper Mother" is gayer; but it takes a "Flapper Grandmother" to inspire side-breaking, side-splitting laughter and mirth. When this snappy musical comedy was presented by the Faculty and Student Body of the Burlington Schools December 8, 1924, public opinion was unanimous in according it first place among the bright lights of Burlingtonian drama.

Reception Given for Basketball Squad

Another very attractive social event of the year was a party given by the Seniors and High School Faculty to the first basketball squads on the evening of February the twentieth.

The scene of festivity was the auditorium which was decorated with the school colors, ferns, and jonquils.

Upon their arrival the guests were introduced by Misses Sparger, and Holton to the receiving line, which was composed of Miss Whitley, Mr. Leonard, coaches; Mr. and Mrs. Halfacre; Sully Oldham, Class President; and the members of the boys' and girls' squads.

Delicious punch was served by Thames Apple, Lyla Brown, Viola Durant, and Fern Lasley.

The special feature of the evening was a burlesque basketball game between the boys and girls, the unusual score of 46 and —4 being made in favor of the girls.

After refreshments, consisting of black and gold ice-cream and black and gold cake, were served the merry-makers were forced to bid goodnight to those who had given them an evening of fun.

My Alma Mater

*All hail, once pleasing, once inspiring shade,
Where many a youth and many a maid
Were met by the kind muses as they strayed,
And for a very short time were delayed.*

*I welcomed everything you gave to me
And treasured it in my fond memory,
Remembering it and eager for more
I learned to love thy hollowed store.*

*Each lesson learned within thy towers
Has turned some cloud into most welcome showers;
To thee I owe what aught I have to offer,
It is naught that to thee I may proffer.*

*Then may I lay my all on thy altar
Awaiting no reward from thy coffer.
But sing thee only, my Alma Mater,
And only sing thee, my Alma Mater.*

JEWEL TRUITT, '25.

Editors' Appreciation

DEAR READERS, we have been waiting with anxiety your perusing of the preceding pages, to offer a few words of explanation and appreciation as to the why and wherefore of this second volume of the DOE-WAH-JACK. As announced in the Foreword, we have attempted to picture our school life as it actually has existed; we have tried to portray for your remembrance a true version of our activities, indulgences, and artistic abilities. We have labored unceasingly to create this volume in such a style that will meet with your approval, in part at least. We do not want you to think, however, that all of the credit is due us. We, in behalf of the DOE-WAH-JACK Staff of 1925, wish to express our sincere thanks to each member of the faculty for the helpful suggestions and coöperation; to Mr. Halfacre for his untiring enthusiasm, constant advice, and encouragement; to Mr. Haworth, and the entire student body for their moral support; and lastly, to those public-spirited business men of our city who so cheerfully contributed their advertisements.

We feel that we have been many times repaid for our efforts on this volume, because of the harmony with which all concerned have labored. We are indeed grateful, and desire to extend our sincere wishes to the future editors for a better and greater DOE-WAH-JACK.

—THE EDITORS, 1925.

Jokes

Fokes

Juanita Amick: "In the early ages an artist painted a picture of a bunch of grapes so realistic that a bird attempted to eat them."

Harrison Simpson: "That's nothing, the other day I was thirsty, so I drew a bucket of water and took a drink."

Miss Morrow (On French class): "Will Mademoiselle Holt please recite?"

Wilmer: "Beg pardon Miss Morrow, were you speaking to me? My name is Wilmer."

"Peanut" Fogleman: "Gee, I've got an idea."

Delos Elder: "Treat it gently; it's in a strange place."

Mr. Leonard: "You should think of the future."

Graves Holt: "I can't. It's my girl's birthday and I have to think of the present."

Banks Whitted: "The lunch room isn't half so noisy today as it was yesterday."

Ted Brown: "No wonder! Didn't near as many people get soup today."

Durward Stokes: "What's in a name anyway?"

Bernice Oakley: "There's a lot in Lancelot."

EXTRACTS FROM SENIOR PAPERS

Account of the feudal system: "William the Conqueror was thrown from his horse and wounded in the feudal system and died on it."

"The trade of Spain is small owing to the insolence of the people."

"In Holland the people make use of the water power to drive their windmills."

"Charles I was going to marry the Infanta of Spain. He went to see her and Shakespeare says he never smiled again."

Mr. Leonard (in science): "Willard, who made the first nitride?"

Willard Clapp: "I think it was Paul Revere."

Soph: "Did you ever hear a rabbit bark?"

Junior: "No! rabbits don't bark."

Soph: "That's funny, my science book says that rabbits eat cabbage and bark."

Eliza Mae Durham: "We've been waiting a good many minutes for my mother."

"Bill" Ellis: "Hours, I should say."

Eliza Mae: "Ours! Oh, William this is so sudden."

DEPARTMENT STORES

*Dry Goods, Notions, Millinery, Shoes and Clothing
Ladies Ready-to-Wear*

Being one of a chain of thirty-six live and up to date department stores we feel like we have helped the people of this and the surrounding communities in many ways. We have always tried to and think that we have offered you many wonderful values during the past six years. We are not satisfied with the past but are tugging and working every day to make our future far superior. Belks' buying power is becoming greater and greater each year, we now have two offices in New York City and one in Paris, France, and in these offices we have men and women who are the very best to be found. These buyers are searching day by day for bigger and better values for each and every store throughout the Belk chain. Remember that we comb the world for good dependable merchandise and blaze the way in value giving.

John Nichols: "Who is the smallest man in history?"

"Lin" Hall: "I give it up."

John: "Why, the Roman soldier who slept on his watch."

Little Percy was of an inquiring turn of mind.

"Daddy," he asked one day, "Is today tomorrow?"

"No, my son, of course, it's not tomorrow," was the reply.

"But you said it was," murmured Percy.

"When did I say today was tomorrow?"

"Yesterday."

"Well it was. Today was tomorrow yesterday, but today is today, just as yesterday was today yesterday, but is yesterday today, and tomorrow will be today tomorrow, which makes today yesterday, and tomorrow all at once. Now run along and play."

Kern Lee Thompson: "This picture is entitled 'Fleas'."

Ed Guthrie: "No doubt by one of our famous modern etchers."

William Bowman: "Where'd you buy the new suitcases?"

Ernest Gross: "They're not suitcases; they are my new pair of shoes."

No, no, Mary, they won't let half-sisters in the movies on one ticket.

Alyse Smith: "Do you know Lincoln's Gettysburg Address?"

Dan Loy: "Why, he lived in Washington. I'm surprised that you didn't know that."

Doctor Brittle: "Have you guarded against the spread of this disease?"

Walter Sharpe: "Oh, yes, doc; we have even bought a sanitary drinking cup, and we all drink out of it."

Miss Sparger: "Don't ask any more questions."

"Peanut" Fogleman: "Why not?"

Roy Clark: "Erma, if I should stand on my head, the blood would run to my head wouldn't it? Well, while I'm standing on my feet, why doesn't it run to my feet?"

Erma Love: "Because your feet are not empty."

Miss Kernodle: "Where are the uttermost parts of the earth?"

Bruce: "The parts where there are the most women."

Miss Kernodle: "What do you mean?"

Bruce: "I mean where there are the most women there is the most uttered."

Mr. Leonard (to Physics class): "What makes the tower of Pisa lean?"

Kent Thompson: "If I knew I would take some myself."

"Peck" Hall: "Which is the more important, a man's wife or his trousers?"

W. H. May: "Well, there are lots of places a man can go without his wife."

Mr. Anglin: "Do you want a large or a small picture?"

Graves Holt: "Small, please."

Mr. Anglin: "Then close your mouth."

Roy Clark: "Where you going with that gun?"

Frank Mitchell: "To kill that little bird that tells my girl everything."

Mr. Leonard: "I want you to understand that it is the law of gravity that keeps us on the earth."

Ted Brown: "How did we stick before the law was passed?"

Mildred Trollinger: "Erma, what are you going to do in your old age?"

Erma Love: "Graduate."

Willie Ingle: "John, you certainly eat well."

John Nichols: "I ought to, I've practiced all my life."

Floyd Whitfield: "How did you catch such a cold?"

Westervelt King: "Somebody played 'The Star Spangled Banner' while I was taking a bath."
